

PRANALI NATEKAR

LOOKING FOR FULL-TIME POSITION

I come from a marketing background with formal training in visual communication, but the real shift happened in a startup where I learnt to turn strategy into clear, effective visuals for 3 years. That mix of strategist thinking and designer execution still defines how I work.

Living abroad alone while working full time made me resourceful, and making the process playful keeps me creative.

I bring strong visual thinking, social media content creation and small-team leadership, the skills that turn ideas into work that actually lands.
